

Addressed To:

11 November 2013

- ~~Colleen Egan, AU~~ (M) ^{Nov} DEC/2013
- ~~Paul Lampathakus, AU~~ (M) DEC
- ~~Paul Murray, AU~~ (M) DEC
- ~~Melissa Drage, AU~~ (M) DEC
- ~~Dr Carmen Lawrence, AU~~ (M) DEC
- Christabel Chamarette, AU -
- Teresa Van Lieshout, AU -
- Jerry Dewsnap, USA
- Joshua Brown, USA
- Sarah Higginbotham, USA
- Titta Gisselberg, FINLAND
- ~~Tibor Meszaros, AU~~ (M) DEC
- ~~Shadow Attorney General John Quigley, AU~~ 12/11/13
- ~~Amanda (Inspector of Custodial Services), AU~~ 11/11
- Human Rights (Commonwealth), AU -
- United Nations, USA
- ^{Address} Mark McGowan, AU
- ~~Fair Trials International, UK~~ 11/11
- Pamela Harris EDU, AU
- The Age, AU
- Sydney Morning Herald, AU
- ^{Address} Ambassador Kim Beazely, AU / USA
- Ambassador Jeffery Bleich, AU
- US Consulate Perth, AU
- Barrister Sheila Amsden, AU
- ~~Justice Action, AU~~ 11/11
- Rocky Mountain Innocence Project, USA
- Department of Foreign Affairs - USA
- Chief Justin Wayne Martin, AU
- Dutch Consulate, Perth, AU
- ^{Address} Salt Lake Tribune, USA
- President Barrak Obama, USA

12 November 2013

- ~~Roger Herft, AU~~ 12/11/13
- ~~Professor Richard Harding, AU~~ 12/11/13
- Sam Weir, editor, AU
- ^{Address} Linda Black (Crim Lawyers Association), AU
- Paul Montani (JusticeWA), AU
- Clive Palmer, AU
- Edna Hughes, AU
- ^{Address} Innocence International (Rubin Carter), CA
- Humanity for Prisoners, USA
- European Court of Human Rights, EU
- Bond University Miscarriage of Justice, AU
- Australian Innocence Project, AU
- National Press Club, AU -
- Rex Widerstrom -Civil Liberties Australia, AU
- To other recipients not listed.

To: Pamela Harris EDU

November 1, 2013

Dear Pamela Harris, EDU,

My name is John Victor Ramses. I am a U.S. citizen wrongly convicted and incarcerated in a Western Australia prison.

If you are receiving this is it because I have taken note of your interest and concern of the declining system of justice, defunding of essential programs, human rights abuses or have been directly affected by the same.

The following statement addresses issues of importance concerning the state of affairs within the Australian legal / judicial system, particularly in Western Australia, that have and continue to adversely affect the course of justice not only for myself and family in America, but also numerous individuals and their families within Australia.

Among the issues addressed are:

- Being forced to face judicial proceedings and sensitive criminal trial without any legal representation or advice;
- Breach of Australia's responsibility and duty to uphold, promote and respect the UN Charter and Covenants signed / ratified by Australia, particularly pertaining to the handling of criminal matters involving citizens of other UN member nations;
- Issues concerning appeals of conviction or sentence.

Included are example excerpts from my own trial demonstrating the impossibility of having to act in one's own defence as foreign national in a foreign court, the confusion, mental and emotional trauma and pleas to the judge, which were ignored;

I invite you to read in full the contents of this statement and browse the supporting evidence included.

I further invite you to comment on the issues herein, as well as investigate said issues and cases. Media and parliamentary attention on these matters is by all means encouraged.

With respect,

John Victor Ramses
Acacia Prison
Locked Bag 1
Wooroloo, Western Australia
Australia 6558

I anticipate your response.

To: Ambassador Kim Beazely

November 1, 2013

Dear Ambassador Beazely,

My name is John Victor Ramses. I am a U.S. citizen wrongly convicted and incarcerated in a Western Australia prison.

If you are receiving this is it because I have taken note of your interest and concern of the declining system of justice, defunding of essential programs, human rights abuses or have been directly affected by the same.

The following statement addresses issues of importance concerning the state of affairs within the Australian legal / judicial system, particularly in Western Australia, that have and continue to adversely affect the course of justice not only for myself and family in America, but also numerous individuals and their families within Australia.

Among the issues addressed are:

- Being forced to face judicial proceedings and sensitive criminal trial without any legal representation or advice;
- Breach of Australia's responsibility and duty to uphold, promote and respect the UN Charter and Covenants signed / ratified by Australia, particularly pertaining to the handling of criminal matters involving citizens of other UN member nations;
- Issues concerning appeals of conviction or sentence.

Included are example excerpts from my own trial demonstrating the impossibility of having to act in one's own defence as foreign national in a foreign court, the confusion, mental and emotional trauma and pleas to the judge, which were ignored;

I invite you to read in full the contents of this statement and browse the supporting evidence included.

I further invite you to comment on the issues herein, as well as investigate said issues and cases. Media and parliamentary attention on these matters is by all means encouraged.

With respect,

John Victor Ramses
Acacia Prison
Locked Bag 1
Wooroloo, Western Australia
Australia 6558

I anticipate your response.

November 1, 2013

To: Linda Black (Criminal Lawyers Association),

Dear Linda Black,

My name is John Victor Ramses. I am a U.S. citizen wrongly convicted and incarcerated in a Western Australia prison.

If you are receiving this is it because I have taken note of your interest and concern of the declining system of justice, defunding of essential programs, human rights abuses or have been directly affected by the same.

The following statement addresses issues of importance concerning the state of affairs within the Australian legal / judicial system, particularly in Western Australia, that have and continue to adversely affect the course of justice not only for myself and family in America, but also numerous individuals and their families within Australia.

Among the issues addressed are:

- Being forced to face judicial proceedings and sensitive criminal trial without any legal representation or advice;
- Breach of Australia's responsibility and duty to uphold, promote and respect the UN Charter and Covenants signed / ratified by Australia, particularly pertaining to the handling of criminal matters involving citizens of other UN member nations;
- Issues concerning appeals of conviction or sentence.

Included are example excerpts from my own trial demonstrating the impossibility of having to act in one's own defence as foreign national in a foreign court, the confusion, mental and emotional trauma and pleas to the judge, which were ignored;

I invite you to read in full the contents of this statement and browse the supporting evidence included.

I further invite you to comment on the issues herein, as well as investigate said issues and cases. Media and parliamentary attention on these matters is by all means encouraged.

With respect,

John Victor Ramses
Acacia Prison
Locked Bag 1
Wooroloo, Western Australia
Australia 6558

I anticipate your response.

To: Sam Weir

November 1, 2013

Dear Mr. Weir,

My name is John Victor Ramses. I am a U.S. citizen wrongly convicted and incarcerated in a Western Australia prison.

If you are receiving this is it because I have taken note of your interest and concern of the declining system of justice, defunding of essential programs, human rights abuses or have been directly affected by the same.

The following statement addresses issues of importance concerning the state of affairs within the Australian legal / judicial system, particularly in Western Australia, that have and continue to adversely affect the course of justice not only for myself and family in America, but also numerous individuals and their families within Australia.

Among the issues addressed are:

- Being forced to face judicial proceedings and sensitive criminal trial without any legal representation or advice;
- Breach of Australia's responsibility and duty to uphold, promote and respect the UN Charter and Covenants signed / ratified by Australia, particularly pertaining to the handling of criminal matters involving citizens of other UN member nations;
- Issues concerning appeals of conviction or sentence.

Included are example excerpts from my own trial demonstrating the impossibility of having to act in one's own defence as foreign national in a foreign court, the confusion, mental and emotional trauma and pleas to the judge, which were ignored;

I invite you to read in full the contents of this statement and browse the supporting evidence included.

I further invite you to comment on the issues herein, as well as investigate said issues and cases. Media and parliamentary attention on these matters is by all means encouraged.

With respect,

John Victor Ramses
Acacia Prison
Locked Bag 1
Wooroloo, Western Australia
Australia 6558

I anticipate your response.

To: Mark McGowan, Labour Party, WA

November 1, 2013

Dear Mark McGowan,

My name is John Victor Ramses. I am a U.S. citizen wrongly convicted and incarcerated in a Western Australia prison.

If you are receiving this is it because I have taken note of your interest and concern of the declining system of justice, defunding of essential programs, human rights abuses or have been directly affected by the same.

The following statement addresses issues of importance concerning the state of affairs within the Australian legal / judicial system, particularly in Western Australia, that have and continue to adversely affect the course of justice not only for myself and family in America, but also numerous individuals and their families within Australia.

Among the issues addressed are:

- Being forced to face judicial proceedings and sensitive criminal trial without any legal representation or advice;
- Breach of Australia's responsibility and duty to uphold, promote and respect the UN Charter and Covenants signed / ratified by Australia, particularly pertaining to the handling of criminal matters involving citizens of other UN member nations;
- Issues concerning appeals of conviction or sentence.

Included are example excerpts from my own trial demonstrating the impossibility of having to act in one's own defence as foreign national in a foreign court, the confusion, mental and emotional trauma and pleas to the judge, which were ignored;

I invite you to read in full the contents of this statement and browse the supporting evidence included.

I further invite you to comment on the issues herein, as well as investigate said issues and cases. Media and parliamentary attention on these matters is by all means encouraged.

With respect,

John Victor Ramses
Acacia Prison
Locked Bag 1
Wooroloo, Western Australia
Australia 6558

I anticipate your response.